

Left, Gerry Fox, Living London.
At 176, London

Gerry Fox, *Living London 176, London, 31 January-20 April

Eleven synchronised multiple-film installations by the London-based film-maker Gerry Fox fill the nooks and crannies of the north London Methodist chapel converted into a gallery by the UK collector Anita Zabludowicz. London's packed central thoroughfares feature in the dizzying all-around film experience made up of both new and archival footage. Fox's "South Bank Show" documentary about Gilbert and George won the BAFTA for Best Arts Film 1998.